Become part of the BIM World start-up area and showcase your solution

The place to be

BIM World Copenhagen is the place in Scandinavia to learn about and discuss how a thorough digitalization of the building industry can help push the green transformation and help make buildings and construction better across the value chain; from the first sketch to end-of-life.

You have a unique possibility to be part of the 2026 event, through our BIM World Start-up section hosted by ConTech Lab.

As part of the start-up section, you get to participate in BIM World Copenhagen on advantageous terms, meet your target group and make important connections.

Who you can meet

BIM World Copenhagen has been a great success the first years with more than 2.000 annual visitors from over 40 countries, along with 50 exhibitors and +80 expert speakers. In 2026 we develop the event even further.

- Consultants, business networks & advisors, 16%
- Engineers, & technical consultants, 13%
- Contractors & material suppliers, 11%
- Universities, schools & academia, 11%
- Municipalities, state & public companies, 7%
- Real estate, developers & proptech, 7%

What you get

Through a collaboration with ConTech Lab, start-ups are offered a special partner rate and the possibility to showcase their product/solution to the right people.

Price: 1.300 EUR.

The start-up package includes:

Exhibition

A dedicated spot within a start-up area, designed to create a collaborative and dynamic environment. Each start-up is provided with a black expo wall, a branded counter with full-color print (front and sides), and one bar stool, ensuring a professional and consistent presence across the area.

Entrance to pitch competition

Start-ups automatically enter a pitch competition where they can present their solution/product on stage in front of a jury of investors and other BIM World visitors.

Marketing and visibility

All participating start-ups will be branded alongside all the other exhibitors, as part of BIM World. They will also be promoted via ConTech Lab's platforms, including an exclusive interview with the winning start-up from the pitch competition.

Free access for your network

ConTech Lab start-up partners receive an invitation code that can be shared with network and customers. The code allows them to enter BIM World CPH 2026 free of charge (normally EUR 180).
